Reliance Group to invest ₹5,000 cr in naval unit

BV Mahalakshmi

Visakhapatnam, Jan 10: Reliance Group has proposed to set up a naval ship-building facility in Rambhili, near Visakhapatnam. The group will be investing ₹5,000 crore in phases in the proposed state-of-the-art facility.

Reliance Group chairman Anil Ambani, who announced this during the CII Investor Partnership Summit, signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU) with the Andhra Pradesh government in this regard. "Reliance Defence, a wholly owned subsidiary of Reliance Infrastructure, will implement this project. This represents the single-largest investment by any company at one location anywhere in Andhra Pradesh," Ambani said.

The Indian Navy is estimated to spend nearly ₹20,000 crore per year on acquisitions and fleet modernisation of submarines and aircraft carriers over the next 15 years under the 'Make in India' initiative, and the proposed unit is set to be benefited from it.

Reliance Group chairman Anil Ambani

The unit will generate thousands of skilled jobs. It would also lead to creation of a multi-tier array of defence ancillaries with further investments of ₹5,000-10,000 crore and thousands of skilled jobs, Ambani said.

The Vizag naval facility will complement Reliance group's existing facility at Pipavav in Gujarat with a clear focus on building strategic assets for the Navy.

Vizag has since ancient times been a hub of commercial and maritime activities. It has today grown to become one of the busiest harbour cities in Asia. Given its critical location, from geopolitical and strategic perspectives, on the east coast, and its proximity to India's naval establishment, including the Coast Guard, and BARC, Vizag is ideally suited for manufacturing of strategic assets such as nuclear submarines and aircraft carriers, Ambani said.

Ambani also said Reliance Group has had a strong business engagement with Andhra Pradesh and it has already invested ₹15,000 crore and created thousands of jobs in the state across a range of sectors from telecom to power.

Bharat Forge to set up auto component hub in Nellore

fe Bureau

Visakhapatnam, Jan 10: Bharat Forge on Sunday announced plans to set up an integrated auto component hub in Nellore, Andhra Pradesh. The company will invest ₹1,200 crore in the hub and create 3,000 jobs.

Bharat Forge has signed two memoranda of understanding with the Andhra Pradesh government for expanding its business in the state. While one MoU is for an integrated auto hub, the other is for a multi-modal manufacturing unit.

"We have decided to set up an integrated automated parts facility along with a multi-modal manufacturing facility at two separate locations in Andhra Pradesh," Baba Kalyani, CMD, Bharat Forge, said during the inaugural session of CII partnership summit.

"There is not a car in the country that does not have parts manufactured by our company. AP is leveraging assets like energy, manpower and ports. We will invest in the manufacturing sector and set up an integrated automated parts faility investing ₹1,200 crore in the automotive parts facility at Nellore and it will employ about 3,000-odd people," Kalyani said.

The company would also set up a multi-modal manufacturing facility for industrial, defence and aerospace spare parts in Anantapur. "The land has been finalised and in the next few weeks we will get it," Kalyani said. Investment estimates for this plant were not announced.
